

CORPORATE Account Hierarchy

A Super Main Account has complete over-view ability which includes the ability to generate reports, manage sub account holders and also post and manage job orders.

A Super Main Read-Only account provides limited access to the user and is strictly used for generating reports on all divisions.

A Main account has the ability to generate reports for a particular division, manage sub account holders, and post and manage job orders.

A Read-Only account provides limited access to the user and is strictly used for reporting on a particular division or business unit.

A Recruiting (Hiring Authority) account can post and manage job orders. No restriction on number of accounts.

A Hiring Manager account can manage job orders posted for them.

